

Mailing is simple.
Right?

Every child knows how to mail a letter or card. Chances are, however, they've also experienced receiving a mangled card the week after their birthday. That's because it's easy to take mailing for granted.

But, when it comes to ensuring your important projects end up in the right hands, at the right time, with the right packaging, you can't afford to view mailing as an afterthought. That's why we maintain our own mailing and fulfillment division, giving you the ability to have your piece printed, assembled, and mailed under one roof.

TanaSeybert's comprehensive resources include a data processing center, hand assembly stations, folders, and high-speed address printers. We're also New York City's exclusive vendor for Conformer Expansion Products®—mailers and pocket folders that feature unique expansion capabilities while lending your package a look of prestige. And, depending on your selected stock, our FSC certification means any piece we produce for you can bear the mark of responsible forestry.

If you'd like to hear more, or receive samples of Conformer's products, please email Eddie Del Rio at edelrio@tanaseybert.com or call 212.453.9221.
